Step 2: Once you have submitted your registration, you must confirm your registration via an authentication email within 72 hours.

The screenshot shows the Wiley Online Library website with the user logged in as Fiona Sarne. The main content area is titled "Registration Confirmation" and contains the following text: "Thank you for registering with Wiley Online Library. You have successfully submitted your registration, however you must still validate your email address in order to complete the registration process. An authentication e-mail has been sent to the address you provided. Please click the link in the message to validate your new login. When you return to Wiley Online Library in the future, just enter your e-mail and password to login. Please note that you must click the link in the authentication e-mail within 72 hours or your account will not be activated and you may need to repeat the registration process. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Customer Support." The footer includes copyright information for John Wiley & Sons, Inc. and navigation links for My Profile, Institutional Login, and Log Out.

Step 3: Once your registration email has been authenticated, log into Wiley Online Library with your registered account here.

The screenshot shows the Wiley Online Library homepage. A "Log In / Register" modal is open, displaying fields for "E-Mail Address" and "Password", a "Log In" button, a "Remember Me" checkbox, and a "Forgotten Password?" link. A red arrow points to the modal. The background shows the site's navigation menu, search bar, and various content sections like "BROWSE" and "RESOURCES".

Step 4: Using the search bar, enter a TWS journal title (The Journal of Wildlife Management, Wildlife Monographs, or The Wildlife Society Bulletin). Select the "Publication titles" radio button under the search bar and then select the arrow.

The screenshot shows the Wiley Online Library search page. The search bar contains the text "The Journal of Wildlife Management". The "Publication titles" radio button is selected and circled in red. A red arrow points to the search bar. The background shows the site's navigation menu, search bar, and various content sections like "BROWSE" and "RESOURCES".

Step 5: Select the checkbox next to the journal title and then select “Get Email Alerts.” You should then receive a message that says “Alerts added to My Profile.” Repeat Steps 4-5 until you are signed up for all TWS journals.

The screenshot shows the Wiley Online Library interface. At the top right, it says "Logged In: Fiona Same" with links for "My Profile", "Institutional Login", and "Log Out". The main content area is titled "Publication Title Search Results" and shows one result: "The Journal of Wildlife Management". There are two checkboxes, each with a "VIEW 1" link and a "Get Email Alerts" button. The checkboxes and the "Get Email Alerts" buttons are circled in red. A search sidebar on the right shows "All content" selected and a "FILTER LIST" with "Journals (1)" listed. The footer contains copyright information and the Wiley logo.

Step 6: Manage your alerts by selecting “My Profile” on the top right hand menu. Once in your in the “My Profile” page, select “Alert Manager.”

This screenshot is similar to the previous one, showing the search results for "The Journal of Wildlife Management". However, in the top right corner, the "My Profile" link is circled in red, and a red arrow points to it from the left. The checkboxes and "Get Email Alerts" buttons are no longer highlighted.

Step 7: Once you are in your Alert Manager, you may edit the frequency of your email alerts for journals.
