

The Colorado Chapter of the Wildlife Society is now accepting applications for its winter/spring Travel Grants Program. The purpose of the CCTWS Travel Grants Program is to assist with travel costs for CCTWS members attending meetings or workshops that further their professional knowledge and benefit management and conservation of wildlife in Colorado. CCTWS will award two travel grants in the amount of $500 each. The Awards Coordinator and CCTWS Board will select and announce the winners by mid-January. The applications guidelines are as follows:

1. Identify the training opportunity, meeting, or conference that would be helpful for your occupation or education as a wildlife professional or student CCTWS member.
2. Type up a ½ to 1-page description of the meeting, telling the CCTWS Board the goals of the conference or training and describing how you would like to use this experience for your occupation or education. Be sure to explain how this meeting would be a valuable contribution to your employment or education as a Wildlife Professional.
3. Include your name and contact information (phone number and email).
4. Applications for Winter/Spring travel grants are due by December 9th. Winners will be notified by the mid-January. Please email applications to Awards Coordinator Chris Mettenbrink as a Word or PDF document to Chris.Mettenbrink@state.co.us. Or mail them to:
