Current Business:

1. Professional development updates
 - a. Urban Ecology Symposium
 - In fall or even early December 2014.
 - ACTION ITEM: Erin will coordinate with Madhu Katti at Fresno State.
 - b. Tracking Workshop
 - Jim Lowery tracking workshop has been proposed
 - Christine has been communicating with Jim about having a one-day workshop this fall, maybe on the Kern River.
 - ACTION ITEM: Christine will continue to coordinate with Jim and find a time and place for the workshop.
 - c. Certification Workshop
 - Lori is coordinating with Rhys from the Western Section, who leads the workshops.
 - May be held at the Quad Knopf office in Fresno; 6 hours, 20 participants.
 - ACTION ITEM: Lori will continue coordinating with Rhys to confirm the date.
 - d. Botany Workshop
 - Scheduling for April 9-11, 2015. Ellen Cypher coordinated with the Tejon Ranch Conservancy for access on April 9; a guide to the plants of the southern SJV is being prepared for participants; a sample species account was passed around.

New Business:

1. Discussed alternate venues for the NCC (and other events). Hodel's Country Dining, the Farm Bureau office, the Ag Pavilion, and CSUB Extension office were suggested. Also discussed the availability of sign language interpreters away from CSUB, having a dedicated poster session, and having the NCC in late February to better accommodate those with busy field seasons. Randi McCormick knows a caterer who could help if the event were held at a facility without built-in catering. Would Dave Germano stay involved if the NCC were no longer on the CSUB campus?
 - ACTION ITEM: Christine will look into alternate venues and dates, check with Brian Cypher, Larry Saslaw, and Dave Germano about their continued interest and date preferences and report back at next meeting.
2. Marcos Perez with NRCS in Bakersfield presented details about NRCS's Environmental Quality Incentive Program, which encourages ranchers, farmers, dairymen and others to participate in conservation efforts. The program provides matching funds (up to $20M) for conservation partnerships that can include establishing conservation easements and restoring and monitoring habitat for at-risk species. Discussed the possibility of providing a workshop for ranchers.
