President's Column

Season's greetings to each and every one of you. I want to discuss two points in this letter. First, our meeting this coming year will be held online. During this annual meeting we will have a single night of presentations as we want to give people the opportunity to present their research to their peers. We, the organizing committee, feel that this is very important for the membership, and I personally hope that you consider taking the opportunity to share your research and findings at our next meeting. We will also offer exciting workshops for members. While we have a few workshops already planned, please let us know if you have any suggestions for a workshop, you may be interested in participating or offering.

Second, I would also ask and encourage you in this time of giving to try and create opportunities to share your experience, your knowledge, and your opportunities with others. The goal is to pass our love for wildlife and their habitats to the next generation of wildlife professionals and to do this we must inspire them by sharing. It is so important that we share the care we have for the environment with younger generation as well as people from different backgrounds than ours. Donate your time and energy to excite people about what we are passionate about. Bring people into the joy that can be found for wildlife and natural resources alike. This will ensure that our environment for which so many of us care for will be taking care of into the future.

Again, I wish you and your families all the best for the new year and am looking forward to hearing from you about your research and ways in which you have shared your passion, research, and knowledge for wildlife.

Stay Safe & Well -
Nate Bickford

Presentations

The Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society

Annual Meeting: Virtual!

Presentations: March 9, 2022 (Time TBD)

Business Meeting: March 9, 2022 (Time TBD)

This year's conference will be limited a business meeting and traditional oral presentations in a virtual format. The traditional presentations are ideally meant to provide students and early career professionals with the opportunity to present to a virtual audience - professionals may apply but presentations will be prioritized for students first, early career professionals next, and then longer-term professionals.

We invite you to present an oral presentation (traditional format) or poster on the topics of wildlife research, ecology, management, conservation, education, or policy at the 2022 annual meeting of the Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society. For the traditional oral presentations, all topics are welcome, and we strongly encourage students to present. All student presentations will be considered for the "best presentation" awards, which include a gift certificate and recognition at the end of the conference.

Traditional oral presentations: 15 minutes allotted for each presentation. Presentations will be pre-recorded and turned in prior to the conference date, and presenters will be asked to attend for a question-and-answer session with their video recording. All presentations will occur on March 9, 2022 (time TBD), via Zoom video conferencing.

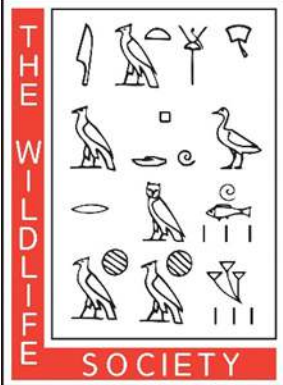

Abstract submission deadline: February 1, 2022 for traditional oral presentations (video presentations will need to be provided one week prior to the presentation date, by March 2).

Options for submitting abstract: Please include any dates you are NOT available for Q&A sessions so we can schedule your talk on a date you are able to answer questions!

1. Download, complete, and submit the fillable Abstract Submission PDF available at the CCTWS meeting website and e-mail to Marcella Tarantino at marcella.tarantino@birdconservancy.org (PREFERRED METHOD).

2. Submit abstracts and all required information as Microsoft Word attachment to Marcella Tarantino at marcella.tarantino@birdconservancy.org.

2022 ALLEN ANDERSON OUTSTANDING WILDLIFE STUDENT AWARD REQUEST FOR NOMINATIONS

The Colorado Chapter of the Wildlife Society (CCTWS) is seeking nominations for the Allen Anderson Outstanding Wildlife Student of the Year award, which recognizes an outstanding undergraduate student at a Colorado college or university. Any undergraduate student is eligible to receive the award; preference will be given to students in wildlife and wildlife related programs. Any professional may nominate students. The student's transcripts and resume are required as part of the submission materials, which may necessitate involvement of the student in the nomination process. Nominations will be evaluated with respect to academic excellence, applied wildlife-related experience, and extracurricular activities.

The award will consist of a personalized award plaque, inclusion of the student's name and year of award on a traveling perpetual plaque (which will be displayed at the student's educational institution for one year), and a wildlife-related book that CCTWS will select. The awardee will be recognized at the 2022 CCTWS Annual meeting.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Nominators/students must submit the following materials for evaluation:

1. A current transcript of all completed coursework.
2. A resume describing the student's extracurricular wildlife-related activities, including employment, volunteer work, participation and service in wildlife-related organizations, or self-directed activities. The resume should include an email address, mailing address, and telephone number.
3. Two letters of recommendation from individuals familiar with the student's wildlife activities.

Incomplete applications will be rejected.

All materials must be submitted to the email or address below by February 4th, 2022.

SEND APPLICATION MATERIALS TO:

Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society

2022 JIM OLTERMAN SCHOLARSHIP AWARD REQUEST FOR APPLICATOINS

The Colorado Chapter of the Wildlife Society (CCTWS), in cooperation with Robin Olterman, are requesting applications for the 2022 Jim Olterman Scholarship Award, to honor Jim and his contributions to Colorado's wildlife legacy.

The Jim Olterman Scholarship Award is offered annually to encourage and support an upper-level Colorado college student in the pursuit of a career in wildlife biology and management. The recipient will receive at least $1,500 and a plaque and will be recognized at the 2022 CCTWS Annual meeting. Jim Olterman, a Colorado Division of Wildlife Senior Terrestrial Biologist and pilot, died in a plane crash on September 4, 2002, while conducting aerial fish stocking operations in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains in southeastern Colorado. During the crash, Jim's actions saved the life of a CPW hatchery technician flying with him.

Jim was born and raised in Kingsport, Tennessee where he gained a deep appreciation for the outdoors in general and wildlife in particular while hunting, fishing and exploring the backwoods of his aunt's farm. In 1964, Jim headed west to enroll at Colorado State University where he received his Bachelor's Degree in Wildlife Biology. In 1968, he joined the U.S. Army and later left the service as a decorated Vietnam Veteran. During his early years in the army, Jim learned to fly and flying quickly became one of the great passions of his life. After his time in the service, Jim received a Master's in Wildlife Science from Oregon State University. Jim led a spectacular career of 30 years in the CPW. Starting out as a District Wildlife Manager in 1972 he successively assumed the positions of Wildlife Biologist in Montrose, Senior Terrestrial Biologist in the Southwest Region, and finally Senior Terrestrial Biologist for the western slope. He was also a fully commissioned peace officer and a Division pilot frequently flying survey, radio tracking, stocking, transport and law enforcement operations for the agency. Jim played an integral role in bringing desert bighorn sheep into Colorado, and moose, lynx and game birds into the southwestern part of the state. He was also an active supporter of the Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society and the parent organization, The Wildlife Society. He served on the CCTWS Executive Board in 1979 and 1980 and encouraged his colleagues and employees to be active members of this and other professional organizations.

Jim's main passions in life were the wildlife resources, fishing, flying and above all, his family: daughters Lara and Sally, son Tandy and his wife Robin. Robin claims that no one "new" rode in Jim's plane without hearing of his family. Shortly after his death, Sally gave birth to a daughter: Abigail James.

Rick Kahn, CPW Wildlife Management Supervisor, a colleague and close friend of Jim's, once stated so well: "Jim was proud to live in Colorado, proud to be a wildlife biologist in this great state and proud to be part of the wildlife family. He was an inspiration to many who knew him. He was passionate about the resource and the people who appreciate it. Jim Olterman epitomized the professional wildlife biologist; he lost his life while doing the job he truly loved."

Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society Annual Meeting

APPLICATION PROCEDURE (<https://wildlife.org/colorado/scholarships/>)

You must meet the following criteria to be considered for the Jim Olterman Scholarship Award:

- You must be a member of either The Wildlife Society or the Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society. (You may submit a membership form with payment to the Colorado Chapter of TWS when submitting your scholarship application if you are not currently a member. Please see attached membership application).
- By December 2021, you must have completed two-thirds of the credits required for graduation with a Bachelors Degree in Wildlife Biology or Management or a related natural resource field.

The application consists of the following materials:

1. A current resumé.
2. A current transcript (unofficial transcripts are acceptable) indicating your current number of credits and grade point average.
3. Two letters of reference. One reference shall be from a professor familiar with your academic capabilities and accomplishments. The second reference shall be from a supervisor whom you worked for in a natural resources-related position (volunteer work is acceptable).
4. A short essay (1-2 pages in length) describing (1) your interests in the biological field, (2) your career goals and how they relate to wildlife management, and (3) how you would use the award to further your professional development.

Incomplete applications will be rejected.

All materials must be submitted to the email or address below by February 4th, 2022.

Student Chapter Updates

Western Colorado University Gunnison, CO

Our student chapter of TWS has not slowed down with our activities while continuing to adhere to the Gunnison County Public health and Western Colorado University COVID-19 protocols. To kick off the semester we volunteered with the High Country Conservation Advocates (HCCA) to do sagebrush restoration. We were able to have multiple speakers throughout the semester touching on topics such as falconry, Ecuador wildlife, and climate change in relation to pollinators. We also heard from students who completed summer projects at the Rocky Mountain Biological Laboratory. Our students were able to gain some practical knowledge such as telemetry through a scavenger hunt, searching for Boreal and Northern Saw-whet owls on a night hike, and propagating succulents. Our chapter also collaborated with the Student Chapter of the American Fisheries Society for a zero-waste Crawfish Boil event that fed over 80 students. After Thanksgiving break, we intend to have speakers teach us about responsible management and stewardship of public lands as well as how to apply on USA jobs. We are extremely grateful for all the support of CCTWS and all TWS members.

Student Chapter Updates

Colorado State University Fort Collins, CO

Kicking off during COVID has been a huge success! Being back in person has given us incredible opportunities to get connected with our members. We've had record meeting attendance, a host of exciting events, new ways to boost funds and involvement, all to get our members and community stoked about wildlife!

Officers Morgan Hertel, Julia Webb and member Caroline Fagan in Rocky Mountain National Park

We took over 30 members to Rocky Mountain National Park to view the elk during rutting season on September 25th. We heard lots of bugling and even saw a display of aggression!

Our vice president Morgan led a paint night for members to build community and come paint with us! Paint supplies were purchased from a local arts store to support small businesses. Our resident chapter artists really got to flaunt their skills!

Members also joined the state chapter for an event at to listen to Dr. Hanem Abouelezz talk about the local ecology of Rocky Mountain National Park. Horse and Dragon Brewing Company Students got to relax while listening to this fascinating presentation. We even learned that this local brewing company often supports conservation efforts - and has a kestrel box on site!

We had the wonderful opportunity to travel to the Fort Collins Museum of Discovery for one of our meetings and speak with Kimberly Fraser, their black footed ferret keeper. We learned about the natural history and ecology of this iconic species, the story of their supposed extinction and rediscovery, and then got to see the resident ferrets up close. Kimberly even introduced us to Elizabeth and Ann, mothers of the successfully cloned black-footed ferret, Elizabeth-Ann (we even learned that the mothers were named after the daughter, not the other way around)!

We took a stop at DeKoevend park in Centennial and picked up trash along the creek running through the area. The trash cans were filled to the brim by the end of our rounds in the area, and we hadn't even covered half of the park!

Senior officers Grant Pegram, Julia Webb, Remi Pattyn, Isabel Sevilla, and Morgan Hertel

As always, we held our biweekly Raptor Monitoring trips to Boyd Lake State Park to help Colorado Parks and Wildlife collect data for their Raptor Monitoring project. We also took a few members to the annual Raptor Monitoring Conference down in Denver to further their education and fascination with different raptor species!

We officers have been humbly honored to serve this student chapter this past term, and as many of us are graduating this upcoming semester, this will be our last serving term. We love The Wildlife Society and all our members do for us. Go Rams!

Student Chapter Updates

Colorado State University Pueblo, CO

We wanted to start off by congratulating our chapter President, Austin Barnes. Austin has officially finished his bachelor's degree in Wildlife and Natural Resource Management at CSU Pueblo. Being a disabled Veteran, Mr. Barnes is a non-conventional student who excelled in his degree program. Austin has also fostered and built up the Pueblo TWS Chapter significantly which we will continue to do. Congratulations Austin, you will be missed! Since Austin is moving on, Grace Abbett is the new President of CSU Pueblo Chapter and Paige Olson is the new Vice President.

Bighorn sheep at Garden of the Gods. Captured for BIOBLITZ by Grace Abbett.

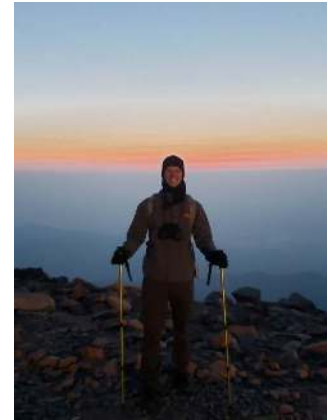

Over this semester we have done quite a bit as a club and wanted to share the highlights. BIOBLITZ was an extreme success. We are proud to say that we finished 8th nationally as a club making 2,476 observations total. Our top contributor was our very own, newly appointed Vice President Paige Olson. She logged over 1,200 species!

We also were able to take part in Monarch butterfly tagging. We went out as a large group and didn't catch any, but we were able to bond as a group and learn more about each other.

We went camping at Pueblo Reservoir in October as well! It was very windy, but we made a lot of hot dogs and told stories by the campfire. This gave us a chance to bond outside of school and connect with nature for a night. Our club hosted a Haunted House during Halloween weekend. It was a total success and we raised over 500 dollars for the club and other clubs in our school.

We are looking forward to participating in some winter activities as a club and are planning events for Spring 2022 as well. We are planning an ice-skating event, a nature ornament making event, and a winter photography event as well. We look forward to Winter Break and Spring Semester.

Call For Nominations

Join the Board of the Colorado Chapter of The Wildlife Society!

We are looking for the next leaders in the wildlife field. Are you interested in broadening your network and developing meaningful relationships with other wildlife professionals? Do you want to give a little something back? Do you want to build or diversify your resume? Are you ready to serve something greater than yourself? If you answered yes to any of these questions, please consider running for one of two open Board positions. Elections will take place in January, so we will need a list of candidates by the end of December. The two Board positions becoming available in 2022 are:

- President-Elect
- Member At-Large

These positions have a minimal commitment of at least one board meeting a month, plus specific responsibilities as outlined in the description below. If you are interested in running for a Board seat please reach out to current CCTWS President Elect, Nate Jones (nate.f.jones@gmail.com). We look forward to hearing from any and all interested members!

CLAUSE A - PRESIDENT - The President shall have general supervision of the Chapter officers, shall appoint, with the advice of the Executive Board, Chairmen of all regular and special committees, shall preside as Chairman at meetings of the Executive Board, and shall be an exofficio member of all committees, except the Nominating and Elections Committee. The President may represent the Chapter or appoint alternate representatives to other Chapter, Section, or Society boards, committees, or meetings, including the Executive Board of the Central Mountains and Plains Section. The Chapter Representative shall represent and serve as liaison to the Section for the Chapter, provide the editor of the Section newsletter with news and items of interest from the Chapter area, and serve as a contact among the Section, Chapters, and members in their respective areas. The Representative will assist the Section President by verifying mailing addresses, conducting membership drives, polling individual members, and assisting in routine Section business.

CLAUSE B - PRESIDENT-ELECT - The President-Elect shall assume the duties of the President in the absence or upon the inability of the President to serve, and shall perform any duties assigned by the President. In the event the President-Elect cannot serve in the President's absence, the Executive Board shall appoint a President, pro tempore.

CLAUSE E - EXECUTIVE BOARD - The Executive Board shall act as the governing body for the Chapter and shall be made up of the above named officers, the Past President, and the duly elected board members. Four of these members will be selected from the Chapter Voting Membership at large and one from Voting Members residing in each of the 4 quarters of Colorado as defined by Parallel 39 North and the Continental Divide from the Wyoming border 6 to the southwest corner of Chaffee County, and from there a line following the eastern border of Saguache, Alamosa, and Costilla Counties. The president of any Student Chapter of the Wildlife Society located in Colorado, or their representative, shall be a non-voting member of the Board.
