

Vol.18 No.1

SPECIAL FOCUS + THE IUCN

January/February 2024

THE WILDLIFE PROFESSIONAL

Wildlifers Around the World

TWS MEMBERS ARE AT WORK ACROSS THE GLOBE

Wildlife During Wartime

The Legacy of Lacey

Funneling Ocelots off the Highway

FEATURES

32 Wildlife during Wartime

In the midst of conflict, Ukrainian biologists forge ahead
By Joshua Rapp Learn

SPECIAL FOCUS + THE IUCN

38 What is the IUCN, Anyway?

Understanding and engaging with the IUCN as a wildlife professional
By Christine E. Wilkinson

42 A Troubling Trade—Conducted in the Open

Unregulated trade could threaten bat populations
By Joy O’Keefe, Joanna Coleman and Nistara Randhawa

46 Conserving Small Mammals at Large Scales

For listing species at all levels, collaboration is key
*By Alexis M. Mychajliw, Rosalind J. Kennerley, Abigail Gazzard, Thomas E. Lacher, Rebecca E.
Young, Molly K. Grace and Samuel T. Turvey*

53 The Legacy of Lacey

Who was the man behind the U.S.’s first national wildlife laws?
By Susan D. Jewell

Departments

- 4 Editor’s Note
- 5 Leadership Letter
- 6 Science in Short
- 10 State of Wildlife
- 14 Today’s Wildlife Professional
- 58 Policy Perspectives
- 60 Field Notes
- 63 In Memory
- 64 Gotcha!

<< COVER STORY

Wildlifers Around the World

TWS members are at work
across the globe

16

Courtesy Anak Pattanavibool

Credit: Kseniia Kravchenko

>> Log On for More

This publication is available online to TWS members on wildlife.org. References printed in blue indicate links in the online version of the magazine.

Credit: Christine E. Wilkinson