Take time today to recognize an outstanding wildlife professional by nominating them for a CCTWS professional award. Don't wait until the last minute!

The CCTWS Professional Awards Committee will consider nominations for the following two awards:

Professional Achievement in Wildlife Sciences (Douglas L. Gilbert)

Any practicing or retired individual, member or non-member of the Chapter, is eligible for nomination. This award is intended to recognize achievements in the profession that have normally received, or are worthy of, national recognition.

Professional Achievement in Wildlife Management (Jim Olterman)

Any practicing or retired individual(s), members or non-members of the Chapter, who develop, apply, administer, or complete an especially significant program of management (wildlife and habitat), education, research, administration and law enforcement that results in an outstanding contribution to wildlife resources in the state of Colorado are eligible for nomination.

This award is intended to recognize achievements in the profession that have normally received, or are worthy of, statewide recognition.

Nominating is easy! Simply provide the name, position/title, and email address of the person you are nominating plus no more than one-page description of why they deserve a professional award.
