The Wildlife Society Annual Conference – Supporting Professionals that are Unable to Attend

We understand that due to budget and travel constraints, many of our federal agency partners and their employees are unable to attend The Wildlife Society's 32nd Annual Conference in Edmonton, Alberta from October 5-8, 2025. To ensure that you stay connected, we are pleased to offer complementary access to our official conference mobile application.

While not a true virtual conference experience, the mobile app will allow federal employees to track emerging research topics and view pre-recorded content from educational sessions uploaded within the app. Users can also message presenters, express support for colleagues, participate in forum discussions, and receive real-time updates through our conference social feed. We hope that by sharing this access, you continue to feel connected to the broader community of wildlife professionals and students—even from afar.

To gain access to the mobile app, simply complete this form. You will then receive an email as early as Saturday, September 27th, with instructions on how to download the app. The deadline to complete the form is Thursday, September 25th.

Thank you for your partnership and continued support of our mission to empower wildlife professionals to advance conservation through science, community, and professional excellence. If you have any questions about this announcement, please contact tw@wildlife.org.

With sincere gratitude,

Ed Arnett
